Summary of findings

Overall summary

Freckleton Lodge is a care home providing personal care to 26 older people at the time of our inspection. The service can support up to 28 older and younger adults who may be living with a dementia. Bedrooms are of single occupancy with ensuite facilities, with various communal spaces for people's comfort.

We found the following examples of good practice.

People living at Freckleton Lodge and staff were tested regularly for COVID-19, in line with government guidance. The service followed guidance for isolation when positive results were confirmed. Staff had received a full course of vaccinations in line with requirements.

The service was clean and maintained. Domestic staff were employed to ensure levels of cleanliness and hygiene remained high. Domestic staff told us they had enough time and all the equipment they needed to carry out their role effectively. Staff followed written schedules for cleaning each area of the home. Completion of cleaning was monitored by the registered manager.

Staff had received training around COVID-19 and how to work safely in a care home environment during the pandemic. We observed staff used personal protective equipment (PPE) appropriately. The service had ample stocks of PPE.

The provider's infection control policy and procedures helped to ensure the service adopted best practice which followed current guidance. The provider used audits to monitor compliance with their policies.

The service facilitated safe visiting in line with current guidance. The service also supported people to maintain contact with their loved ones via telephone and video calls. This helped to aid people's emotional and psychological wellbeing.

The five questions we ask about services and what we found

Detailed findings

Background to this inspection

We carried out this inspection under Section 60 of the Health and Social Care Act 2008 as part of our regulatory functions. This inspection was planned to check whether the provider is meeting the legal requirements and regulations associated with the Health and Social Care Act 2008.

As part of CQC's response to care homes with outbreaks of COVID-19, we are conducting reviews to ensure that the Infection Prevention and Control (IPC) practice is safe and that services are compliant with IPC measures. This was a targeted inspection looking at the IPC practices the provider has in place. We also asked the provider about any staffing pressures the service was experiencing and whether this was having an impact on the service.

This inspection took place on 21 January 2022 and was unannounced.

Our findings

Staffing

- The provider told us they had measures in place to mitigate the risks associated with COVID-19 related staff pressures

How well are people protected by the prevention and control of infection?

- We were assured that the provider was preventing visitors from catching and spreading infections.
- We were assured that the provider was meeting shielding and social distancing rules.
- We were assured that the provider was admitting people safely to the service.
- We were assured that the provider was using PPE effectively and safely.
- We were assured that the provider was accessing testing for people using the service and staff.
- We were assured that the provider was promoting safety through the layout and hygiene practices of the premises.
- We were assured that the provider was making sure infection outbreaks can be effectively prevented or managed.
- We were assured that the provider's infection prevention and control policy was up to date.
- The provider facilitated safe visiting, following current guidance. This included visits in people's bedrooms, use of a visiting pod and window visits. Whilst the home was in outbreak, visits were facilitated for people at the end of their lives, for essential care givers and in the visiting pod. Visitors were screened for any COVID-19 symptoms and testing was carried out before visits.

From 11 November 2021 registered persons must make sure all care home workers and other professionals visiting the service are fully vaccinated against COVID-19, unless they have an exemption or there is an emergency.

- The service was meeting the requirement to ensure non-exempt staff and visiting professionals were vaccinated against COVID-19.
