Summary of findings

Overall summary

Wold Haven is a residential home providing care to 16 people aged over 65 and over at the time of the inspection. The service can support up to 43 people.

We found the following examples of good practice.

Systems were in place to isolate people with COVID-19 to minimise transmission. The service had good supplies of personal protective equipment (PPE) that were readily available in stations throughout the service.

Staff maintained social distancing where possible and the environment promoted people to remain socially distanced.

Staff had received update training on how to keep people safe during the COVID-19 pandemic and were regularly tested in line with the government's current testing programme.

The environment was very clean and additional cleaning was taking place including frequently touched surfaces. Clinical waste bins were positioned so that staff could access them when required.

At the time of our visit the service was closed for non-essential visitor's. A visitor's protocol was in place to ensure anyone entering the service was temperature tested, completed hand disinfection and provided with information to remain safe during their visit.

Detailed findings

Background to this inspection

We carried out this inspection under Section 60 of the Health and Social Care Act 2008 as part of our regulatory functions. This inspection was planned to check whether the provider is meeting the legal requirements and regulations associated with the Health and Social Care Act 2008.

As part of CQC's response to care homes with outbreaks of coronavirus, we are conducting reviews to ensure that the Infection Prevention and Control practice was safe and the service was compliant with IPC measures. This was a targeted inspection looking at the IPC practices the provider has in place.

This inspection took place on 14 January 2021 and was announced.
